ENDORSEMENTS: Kelly Continues To Earn Support from Current and Former Elected Officials

Denver, CO – Today, more current and former city elected officials announced that they are endorsing Kelly Brough to be Denver's next mayor. Denver City Councilman Kevin Flynn and former Denver City Councilman-at-Large Tim Sandos are supporting Kelly because they know she is the most qualified candidate in the race with executive experience to tackle Denver's biggest challenges on day one.

"Denver voters want solid, experienced leadership to get this city back on its feet and moving again," said Kevin Flynn, Denver City Councilman for District 2. "Knowing Kelly for more than 30 years, I know she has that roll-up-the-sleeves attitude. Having raised her family in my district, I trust her to know what the people need and to get the job done."

"I have worked with Kelly Brough for the city of Denver since my own election as a City Councilman-at-Large in 1989 when she was our council staff liaison," said Tim Sandos, former Denver City Councilman-at-Large. "She's not just incredibly savvy regarding how the city operates, she clearly understands 'why and how' the city came to determine how to best serve its citizens."

The endorsers join a long list of current and former elected officials including: former Governor Bill Ritter, former Lieutenant Governor Gail Schoettler, former Mayor Wellington Webb, former state Rep. Wilma Webb, former Mayor Bill Vidal, former state Senate President Joan Fitz-Gerald, former Senate Minority Leader Sen. Lucía Guzmán, former state Senator Joyce Foster, state Sen. Chris Hansen, state Rep. Steven Woodrow, state Rep. Alex Valdez, former state Sen. Pat Pascoe, former state Representative Rosemary Marshall, Denver Councilwoman Amanda Sawyer, Denver City Councilwoman Kendra Black, Denver City Councilman Chris Herndon, former City Councilwoman Rosemary Rodriguez, former Denver City Councilwoman Susan Casey, former Denver City Councilwoman Jeanne Robb, and more.
